

Geranium's support of Whitchurch-Stouffville food drive totals more than $8,000

EACH YEAR FOR THE PAST FOUR YEARS, homeowners, staff, suppliers, consultants and trades people of Geranium Homes have come together in support of The Whitchurch-Stouffville Mayor's Annual Thanksgiving Food Drive for the local Food Bank. On Sept. 28, suppliers and trades arrived with pick-up trucks full of non-perishable food donations. Geranium's President Boaz Feiner presented a cheque in the amount of $8,426, the combined total of funds from the company's donation of $50 per home sold at Cardinal Point as well as contributions from suppliers and homeowners. A significant donation of $2,000 was made by James Hardie Building Products, and SCS Consulting Group played a significant role in organizing the trades.

"We are so very grateful to everyone who helps us and the companies who contribute along with Geranium give us a huge boost each year," said Marion Wells, executive director of the Food Bank.

At its annual Barbecue-in-the-Park event on Sept. 8, Geranium kicked-off its campaign to support the food drive. Throughout the month, homeowners dropped off food donations to the Cardinal Point sales centre, and on Friday, Marion Wells and Mayor Wayne Emmerson arrived at Cardinal Point for the final tally and cheque presentation.

Emmerson says that every dollar donated is actually the equivalent of three-dollars in the hands of the organizers and volunteers of the food bank. "Without Geranium's leadership, our annual town-wide food drive would collect just half of what we receive annually through their efforts. I am very appreciative of their contribution."
